Florida Republican Convention.

NEW YORK, May 31.—Dispatches from Florida state the Republican convention assembled at Madison to-day. It was very stormy. Sixty seven delegates seem to be for one faction, sixty-five for another. Nine counties send double delegates. There have been some fights in which pistols were used. Further trouble is apprehended.

Reunion at Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, May 31.—The annual reunion of the society of the Army of the Cumberland will take place here on the 6th and 7th of July next. General Sheridan will preside. The Academy of Music has been engaged for the occasion and extensive preparations have been made. The society of the Army of the Potomac will meet here on the 6th of June.

Fire in a Coal Mine.

The Black Diamond shaft in the Scranton coal region took fire and burned fiercely six hours to-day when it was extinguished by hard work. Twenty six valuable mules were suffocated.

Episcopal Convention.

DES MOINES, Ia, May 31.—The Protestant Episcopal Convention of the diocese of Iowa to-day unanimously nominated William Stephens Perry President of Hobart College Geneva New York Bishop of Iowa the name of Dr Ecclestan having been withdrawn.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Decision Affecting Claims on the Comstock Lode.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—About six months ago Adolph E Sutro filed a protest in the General Land Office against all applications for patents for mining claims in townships 16 and 17 north range 21 east in the State of Nevada upon the ground that the conditions specified by the third section of the Sutro tunnel act should be inserted in all the patents for claims in those townships. This claim was the subject of Congressional argument before the commissioner who has now decided that the condition referred to should be inserted only in claims upon the Comstock lode extending from the Utah claim, and northerly to the Baltimore American, and southerly to the same direction.

Public Debt Statement.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—The debt statement shows a decrease during May of $4 617 515. Coin balance $66,624 766; currency balance $9,285 706; special deposits held for redemption of certificates of deposit, $34 385,300.

Opposition to the Hawaiian Treaty Bill.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—The Senate committee on foreign relations to-day heard delegations from the Chamber of Commerce of New Orleans, Savannah, Charleston and Raleigh in opposition to the passage of the House bill for carrying the Hawaiian treaty into effect, that free introduction of sugar and rice from the Sandwich Islands would be destructive to the Louisiana, Mississippi and Carolina producers of those articles. Judge Allen, Commissioner of the Hawaiian government, and Senator Sargent were then heard in reply. They adduced statistics to show that the amount of land in the Sandwich Islands capable of producing rice and sugar had been greatly over estimated, that the present production is small and that it cannot be increased.

CANADA.

The Loss by Fire at Quebec.

QUEBEC, June 1.—A careful inquiry shows that between 400 and 500 buildings have been burned, and the loss is estimated at $800 000. Two fatal and many minor casualties occurred. A committee has been appointed to raise money for the sufferers.

ATLANTIC CABLE.

Turkish Revolt.

VIENNA, May 31.—The Austrian Ambassador at Constantinople telegraphs that the revolution might have been avoided by a timely recall of Ignatieff, the Russian Ambassador. The new Sultan is expected to issue an edict proclaiming that the Mohammedans are opposed to the servitude of any people.

Turkish Provincial Insurrection.

RAGUSA, June 1.—The insurgents attacked the Turkish troops near Stalitz on Tuesday. The insurgents admit they were driven back to [illegible] whence they retired upon Bemenani.

Racing in England.

LONDON, June 1.—At Epsom to-day the High Level handicap race was won by Cato. Sandiford's Preakness, the American representative, was second and Chancellor third. The distance was one mile and a half.

Russian View of Turkish Affairs.

ST PETERSBURG, June 1.—The Journal de St Petersburg of to-day has an article on the Turkish solution. After commenting on the recent events at Constantinople it points out the difficulties which beset the path of Murad Effendi, the new Sultan, and continues as follows: But the solicitude of Europe to prevent the crisis from increasing in gravity remains unchanged. The powers continue to adhere to their demand from the Turkish government, whatever that government may be, the execution of indispensable reforms.

The Ex-Sultan's Treasure.

LONDON, June 1.—The amount of the ex-Sultan's treasure as reported in the News Vienna special as having been seized is $100 000 000, not $100 000.

Servia Preparing for War.

LONDON, May 31.—The Times Berlin dispatch says: In consequence of the appointment of the new Sultan, Servia is apparently determined to anticipate the attack which she considers imminent. The Servian government on Tuesday issued a decree closing all schools and even the courts during the impending war. Prince Milan will act as commander in chief. The various divisions of the Servian army have been placed under Russian officers, many more of whom have arrived at Belgrade.

The same dispatch says: The people in Germany begin to believe that a collision between Servia and Turkey is imminent and that Russia, finding her policy suddenly crossed by the Turkish national party, can not afford to accept on the [illegible] question. It is asserted that the new Turkish government has notified England of their determination to maintain the integrity of the empire and the Sovereign power of the crown, and that England approves their determination.

Winslow.

The Manchester Guardian's London correspondent says the government will not surrender Winslow until a supplemental treaty has been negotiated between Great Britain and the United States embodying the principles of the act of 1870. The correspondent also says communications are now passing between London and Washington for that purpose. If an agreement is not reached by June 15th Winslow will be released.

Bank of England.

LONDON, June 1.—The bullion in the Bank of England has increased £50,000 during the week. Proportion reserve to liability is 51¾. The amount of bullion gone into the bank on balance to-day is £13 000. Consols 94 [illegible] S bonds 87s 109¼. Erie 12⅞.

Bank of France.

PARIS, June 1.—The specie in the Bank of France has increased 9 406 000 francs during the past week.

LIVERPOOL, June 1.—Cotton steady.

COMMENCEMENT AT PACIFIC UNIVERSITY.

We have been informed that the following will be the order of exercises for commencement week at the Pacific University:

SUNDAY, JUNE 4.

Baccalaureate sermon by the president Dr Marsh at 11 A M in the Congregational Church.

MONDAY.

Public exercises of the Literary Societies in the evening.

TUESDAY.

Anniversary exercises of the class of 1866 in the evening.

WEDNESDAY.

Public exercises of the graduating class followed by the conferring of the degrees in the morning.

In the evening the president of the University will receive his friends at his house.

We regret to learn that in consequence of the condition of Dr Marsh's health since his return from the East it is possible that he will be unable to deliver the baccalaureate sermon on Sunday as announced.

This is an ancient story but it will bear repetition and has been started the round of the press again. A countryman with his wife stopped at a hotel the other day. At dinner when the waiter presented a bill of fare the young man inquired "What's that?" "That's a bill of fare," said the waiter. The countryman took it in his hands, looked at it curiously, at his wife and then at the waiter, and finally dived into his pocket and insinuatingly inquired "How much is it?"

A St Louis woman says it is no worse to encircle a lady's waist with your arm in a ball room than to hug your friend's sister on the back stairs. No worse! Why, it is not as good!

No More Chinese Laundrymen at Hotels.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 1.—A number of anti-Coolie Clubs met last night and adopted measures looking to continuance of the agitation. The proprietors of the Grand and Occidental Hotels and Lick House no longer allow Chinese laundrymen to visit the rooms of their guests. They are not permitted to enter the last named hotel at all and in others they are obliged to remain down stairs.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 31.—Late heavy north winds will in no way materially affect crop prospects. Harvesting will be actively commenced about the 20th of next month. Crops will undoubtedly come up to the standard anticipated by farmers a month ago, and probably exceed their anticipations.

Corpse Identified.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 31.—The body of the man found in the pond near the Presidio this morning, has been identified as that of J S McCann, recently the proprietor of a cigar stand on Market street, opposite the Palace Hotel. The circumstances attending his death are unknown but he had been considered as unsound in mind by his acquaintances.

Efficient Fire Patrol.

It is stated that at the recent fire in Brittan block the salvage accruing from the operations of the underwriters fire patrol amounted to nearly $100 000. In recognition of the efficiency of the patrol the underwriters have taken steps to provide them with such additional facilities for the preservation of property as will give them the most complete outfit.

Shoemakers' Anti-Coolie Club.

The Shoemaker's Anti Coolie Club met to-night but split on a proposition to spot the parties employing Chinese, and after considerable emphatic language on the part of some of the more violent of the members broke up in a demoralized condition.

San Francisco Stock Market.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 1.—Sales at San Francisco Stock Board for the week ending May 28th amounted to $2,000,000 against $3 400 000 for the previous week. The above is the lightest weekly aggregate in several months.

Mining Co. Assessment Levied.

The Savage mining company have levied another $2 assessment, amounting to $224 000, delinquent July 6th. The previous one, levied April 4th, has just been collected.

Price of Water.

The order regulating the price the Spring Valley Company may charge for water, adopted by the commissioners last evening amounts to a reduction of forty per cent on the basis of the present rates. The water company represents that it will refuse to comply with the provisions of the ordinance and appeal to the courts for their decision as to the constitutionality of the Roach law.

New Bank Incorporated.

The articles of incorporation for a new bank in this city were filed to-day. It will be known as the Bank of Commerce and will transact a general banking business. The capital of $1 000 000 in 100 000 shares is to be paid in ten monthly installments of 10 per cent each. The directors are to be Samuel O. Thompson, Chancellor Hartson, E L Sullivan, J J McKinnon, J M Wentworth, H H Pearson, J P Jackson, G W Granniss, W S Hopkins, James L Baker, and D W C Thompson. Chancellor Hartson is President of the Bank of Nevada and S C Thompson President of the First National Bank of New York and is understood to be the brother of D W C Thompson formerly cashier of the National Gold Bank and Trust Company of this city. The rooms in Hayward's building formerly occupied by the California Trust Company have been leased for the new bank. The first installment of the capital amounting to $100 000 will be called in immediately and the bank will commence business about the 1st of July.

Movement to Nominate Gov. Woods for Vice President.

There seems to be some decided movement on foot among Republicans here to bring ex Governor Woods of Oregon and Utah Territory into prominence as a candidate for the Vice Presidency. How far the nomination would be met with favor by the members of the Republican party at large does not at present fully appear, but his friends are evidently making strong efforts.

Smallpox.

Two more cases of smallpox have been reported to date, both very light, making 23 in all. Ten deaths have thus far occurred. The health officer states with regard to the origin of the disease that it is evident that the recent arrival of the Colorado from China had nothing whatever to do with its introduction as several cases were reported, some of whom were already in an advanced stage of the disease on the day the steamer arrived and before the passengers landed. He states further that from present appearances the disease is on the decline.

The Anti-Piper Democrats in Convention.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 1.—The self constituted anti Piper Democratic convention to name 31 delegates to the Congressional convention met yesterday afternoon and after the selection of 20 members the convention adjourned until Saturday next to name the rest.

Insane.

A letter was received in this city to-day from Germany stating that Robert J Beige, formerly State Senator from this city, had become insane. He is confined in the asylum at Wurtemburg.

Mining Company Sued.

H F Van Gristeheld and 49 others bring suit in the 12th district court against the directors of the Niagara Gold and Silver Mining Company praying that the assessment levied by the defendants on the 1st of May be declared illegal; that an account be taken of the expenses of developing the mine; that an injunction be issued preventing the selling of stock as delinquent; that plaintiffs have judgment against the directors for $3 092; that defendants be enjoined from disbursing moneys on account of the Niagara Company; that a receiver be appointed to take charge of the company's affairs who shall be empowered to pay debts and accruing expenses and for costs of suit, etc. The complaint is very lengthy and sets forth a long list of alleged grievances.

The Anti-Coolie Clubs Growing Communistic.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 1.—The usual meetings of a number of Anti-Coolie Ward Clubs were held this evening. The nature of the proceedings of many of these clubs have lately grown to be somewhat at a variance of the legitimate and legal handling of the question at issue. Some of the meetings have been quite disorderly and marked by the absence of prominent men and the presence of a great deal of bad whisky. A tendency has also been evinced to ring in a crowd of mere boys to make a great show of membership on the rolls of the clubs. The discussions have been allowed to deteriorate to mere wordy abuse, loose statements and rambling exhortations directed about as much at capital in general as at the question of Chinese employment in particular as the right the clubs were a necessity for the escape of class envies and animosities. The result is beginning to be appreciable in a feeling on the part of the better portion of the community not in opposition to the movement itself, but to the manner in which it is conducted in certain instances and in a corresponding feeling of disapproval verging on disgust which militates to some extent against the general interest of the people in the meetings.

East-bound Travel.

SACRAMENTO, June 1.—To-day the east bound express was the largest train that has passed through this season, comprising besides the usual express, baggage and postal cars five sleepers and five coaches. Among the passengers were the following well known Californians: Alex G Abell of San Francisco, who goes as a delegate to the Cincinnati Convention; Wm C Belcher of Marysville, S M [illegible] and family of this city and Mark Hopkins and family, the latter in a special car.

NEVADA.

Bullion Tax Settled.

VIRGINIA, May 31.—The managers of the Consolidated Virginia mines came forward to-day and settled the bullion tax on the proceeds of the mines. The county assessor yesterday seized three bars of bullion belonging to the Ophir company. The managers of this mine will probably take the same course as that taken by the Consolidated Virginia and liquidate the bullion tax claim against them.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

VICTORIA, June 1.—The steamer Otter sailed yesterday for Wrangel with about seventy five passengers—among them a government road party who go for the purpose of putting the Cassiar trail in order. The steamer Isabel arrived yesterday and the Grappler to-day from Wrangel. It is reported that the Stikine river opened May 23d. Three steamboats crowded with passengers left Wrangel, and are supposed to have reached Glencoe landing. The river was rising rapidly and the country is covered with two or three feet of water.

Francis & Nicholas have struck another seam of coal of excellent quality on their farm at Nanaimo three yards below the seam reported some time since.

The Frazer river rose to within a foot of last year's high water mark on Monday at Yale and some warehouses near the bank were flooded. At some places on the road the water was so deep that wagons could not pass. Mails, passengers, etc were detained at Yale. The water began to fall on Tuesday so that it is now off the road. Considerable damage has been done.

The Race To-morrow.

A race for $2 000 is announced for to-morrow, Friday, at Beacon Hill between the horses Trifle and Reindeer.

CARD FROM MR. SIMPSON.

PORTLAND, June 1 1876.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

I have just returned from the county canvass at Sandy precinct, and take this, the earliest opportunity of replying to what you have to say in your issue of this morning about my relation to the school book question "which so agitated the public mind two or three years ago." You assert that you have been informed that "at one of the public meetings in a county precinct at which Mr Sylvester Simpson spoke a Democrat publicly charged that Mr Simpson, who was superintendent of public instruction of the State at the time of the school book agitation sent to various county superintendents a letter offering to allow a percentage on the price of certain books if they (the county superintendents) would favor the adoption of those books under the uniformity law." In the first place you are misinformed as to what occurred at that county precinct. The Democrat to whom you refer did not make any such charge as that you mention. What he did was to ask me if I did not after the books were adopted send a printed confidential circular to the different county superintendents offering them a commission of ten per cent on all sales if they would act as agents for the introduction of the series. But this variation in the charge is immaterial as it is wholly false in either aspect of it. I never issued any circular or sent any letter to any county superintendent, either before or after the adoption of my books, promising him any percentage on sales or any other consideration to induce him either to vote for the books or to act as agent for their introduction. Of the twenty two gentlemen who were then acting as county superintendents, twenty are still living, and not one of them will say that I ever issued or sent any such circular or letter. One of them, Prof A J Anderson, is now in Portland. Others are Rev P S Knight, at Salem; Prof J D Robb, at Forest Grove, and Dr J C Grubbs at Dallas. All of these gentlemen are Republicans and all of them but Prof Anderson voted for the Pacific coast series. Any one who doubts my word about the matter is at liberty to call upon them for information. While I am on this subject I state further that it is utterly impossible that I should have made any such proposition as that imputed to me for the very sufficient reason that I never had any interest whatever, either direct or indirect, in any of the books adopted for use in this State or in the proceeds of sales of any of them.

Please give this denial as wide a circulation as you gave the charge. Yours &c

SYL C SIMPSON.

AN EXPLANATION OF THE SCHOOL BOOK CIRCULAR.

PORTLAND, June 1 1876.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

In your issue of to-day you say that at one of the public meetings in this county where Mr Syl C Simpson spoke a Democrat publicly charged Mr Simpson, who was superintendent of public instruction at the time of the school book agitation, with having sent to the various county superintendents a letter offering a percentage on the price of certain books if such superintendents would favor the adoption of those books under the uniformity law. These are the facts. At the conclusion of Mr Simpson's speech at Powell's valley Mr Lent, a Democrat, asked him if he had sent such a letter as is described to the different superintendents, stating at the same time that he had seen a circular making such an offer, and if he was not deceived Mr Simpson's name was signed to it, and that he did not feel satisfied about the matter. Mr Simpson unhesitatingly and emphatically denied the charge implied in the question. Mr Lent also stated that one of these circulars had been sent to Rev J [illegible], county superintendent in this county. It is only necessary to say that a circular such as is described was sent to the different county superintendents. It was sent by a Mr Libby, of San Francisco, a gentleman who held some kind of a school book agency for an Eastern house and for the house of Bancroft. Mr Simpson had nothing to do with it and no interest whatever in the proposition which it contained. One of these circulars was received by Mr [illegible] by whom it was handed to Mr J K Gill of the book establishment of J K Gill & Co of this city. Mr Gill made it a cause of complaint to the Eastern house whose agency he then held and with whom Mr Gill [illegible]. Mr Gill remembers that Mr Simpson's name was in no way connected with the circular, and a copy of Mr Gill's letter complaining of the circular refers to the matter as emanating solely from Mr Libby. Mr Simpson is not at present in the city. He went on yesterday morning to Salem where he was to take part in the commencement exercises at Wallamet University. He expected to return to East Portland this morning and to proceed from there to the candidate's meeting to be held to-day at Sandy. The writer of this has ascertained the foregoing facts independently of him from sources which are indicated and which are accessible to all persons desirous of knowing the truth.

WASHINGTON COUNTY POLITICS.

HILLSBORO, May 31 1876.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Your audacity in expressing a favorable opinion of a person not on the "regular ticket," has astounded the knowing ones of this county. There is a certain class who do not seem able to comprehend the idea that a man has any political rights but to follow his leaders, or any duty but to vote their tickets and leave the consequences to those who make them up. Such persons are puzzled to imagine how any candidate can possibly be thought fit for an office unless he has been "regularly nominated on the regular ticket." They do not take into consideration the fact that all the suitable men are not just now strictly partisans, and they overlook the still more important fact that these "regular tickets" are often gotten up in very irregular ways. Take, for instance, that now before the people of Washington county. Not content with having disgusted a large number of voters so that they had no desire to participate in the primaries the managers arranged their basis of representation so that two precincts, with one-fourth of the county vote should have the same representation at the convention as the other eight precincts with three fourths of the vote. The result was that in several precincts there were no primaries at all, and the real old simon pure ring had it all their own way. They endorsed in the most emphatic manner the notorious "fee-bill" which cost the people of this county at least $5 000; they put out their "regular ticket" and then announced that those who had gone off two years ago could be forgiven, and even those voters who had been Independents four years might come back to the dear old party; but any man who had helped elect Humphreys county judge should be pursued for all political time. One of them was defeated then for judge, and the cry is now "revenge!"

On such a platform and brought out in such a way the "regular ticket" is presented for our votes, and if any one dissents he is a doomed man. You, Mr Editor, for having any personal opinions and your paper for uttering them are no longer to be considered sound.

Another noticeable thing about these regular fellows is their own very irregular record. Two years ago a few choice spirits, who had a sore four years old saw the Independent wave coming and determined to ride it to revenge and office. They got up a call, they signed it and pledged themselves to "cut loose from all parties;" they put it in circulation; they started the ball but it was too much for them to handle. The people took hold of the matter, and the moving parties finding themselves left out in the cold straightened up with a snap, and became such strict party men that they got into the Democratic ranks to try to beat the Independents. Now these same men are talking about whom they will forgive and who must stay out of the "regular party." They are the simon-pures and are ready to battle for their position. They have bolted, they have "cut loose," some of them have even condemned Holladay's ring, but they "never voted for Humphreys." There you have the whole secret of regularity in a nut-shell.

Another thing to look at is the condition of that large class of unfortunates who are not regular. What are they going to do? They are shut out of that fold and must either go to the Democracy or stand their ground and fight it out where they are. My own opinion, based on some little observation of the situation is that they will "fight it out on that line if it takes all summer," and the responsibility must ultimately rest where it rightfully belongs, on those whose frauds, bad faith and assumption of authority force the contest.

Nor need the contest be unwelcome. The Independent move of the last general election was the cause of much good, both in parties and out. The Independent membership of the legislature made a proud record as non partisans, and it is enough to have that much of good in view again in this conflict. Locally matters are unchanged. The fight is on exactly the same old ground. In State and national matters the reasons for such action still exist, and if the same desire for improvement exists in the breasts of the people of Washington county we shall see them next Monday in almost unbroken phalanx deposit in their ballot boxes the death knell of party spirit.

OREGON.

The tug Gen. Canby has gone on a voyage to Tillamook.

The Oregon City brass band, which was once a good musical crowd, has been reorganized.

Stealing flowers from graves in the Oregon City cemetery is practiced by the hoodlums of that place.

The Grangers ball at Butteville, on the evening of May 30th, was a success and all had a good time.

The W. R. T & L Co. have put the Dayton in dry dock, where she will receive a thorough overhauling.

The farmers on French Prairie are just getting their wheat sowed, but still they expect to raise good crops, and probably will as this is Oregon.

Two precocious youths in Polk county got into a quarrel the other day and one of them knifed the other in the leg, making an ugly gash.

The Astorian says: "The winds of Monday night did no further damage to booms of logs and spiles in this harbor than to shoot a few of them ashore."

The Baptist State Centennial Sunday School Convention of Oregon will be held at the Salem Baptist church June 19th, 20th and 21st, Rev J C Baker, of San Francisco, conductor.

It is expected the lighthouse tender Shubrick will get away from Astoria on Saturday, possibly not until the day following. The first place to be visited will be Shoalwater bay.

Proposals will be received by the building committee for the erection of a suitable hall at Lebanon for the I O O F. Plans and specifications can be examined at the postoffice in Lebanon.

The Canyon City Express of May 20th says: On Monday last our city was visited by a first-class thoroughbred snow storm, the hills near by looked as pure and white as the Virgin Mary. A snow storm in the middle of May is too much for a Webfoot but the oldest inhabitant tells us that snow storms happen in the middle of May only about once in 11 years. That we struck in the 11th year is what chills us.

"My son," said a Boston parent as his eighteen year old offspring stood carpet bag in hand upon the threshold, "you are going to the Centennial. [illegible] me that during your absence you will shun bad company and keep your feet from the doors of alehouses and billiard saloons." "Father," replied the young man with the memory of the last circus flitting through his mind, "I cannot go uninstructed and unpledged!"

An old lady had married a young and rather fast man. On one occasion shortly after their marriage the husband was about to set off on a journey. His wife accompanied him to the railway station and there bade him adieu. "Charles," she said, "remember that you are married." "Caroline," he rejoined with alacrity, "I will make a memorandum of it." And he at once tied a knot in his handkerchief.

ADDRESS

DELIVERED BY HON. M. P. DEADY THURSDAY EVENING, JUNE 1, 1876, TO THE GRADUATING CLASS OF WALLAMET UNIVERSITY.

Members of the Graduating Class of Wallamet University:

We are met here to-day to confer upon you the laurel crown awarded to those who have successfully run the race set for them by their Alma Mater. Laying aside the habits and habiliments of pupilage, in the presence of these sympathizing relatives and friends this day you may be said to assume the toga virilis, and with it the duties and responsibilities of manhood and womanhood. We greet and congratulate you upon reaching this goal of your youthful ambition. We heartily welcome you from the narrow and secluded vale of adolescence, to the wide and varied region of adult life. As fellows and co-laborers in the battle and work of this world we give you the right hand of fellowship and cordially bid you God speed in your endeavors to realize the bright dreams and high hopes which have attended and sustained you through the years of study and preparation for this important and joyous occasion.

Having equipped yourself for the journey of life, you will soon bid farewell to these familiar Halls and Groves and join the ranks of the great caravan of humanity that is ever toiling across the deserts, over the mountains and through the valleys of this probationary world, on its way from time to eternity. As you pass along you will encounter the memorials of the diverse generations which have preceded you, and may learn from them how to shun the dangers which beset your paths, and to make your lives worthy of commemoration and example. In the din and tumult of the busy [illegible] crowd, some of you may soon disappear from sight, and never be known to fame. Others will doubtless gain the van and go through the world in the front rank of the column. But in either case, the journey is but for a day and it is well to remember that it is not so important what your position is during it—as after it. To achieve success is one thing, but to deserve it is another and a better.

But I would not have you, who are just entering upon the arena of action, fear the result of your existence or anticipate the defeat of your high endeavors. Nor will I sow doubts, on this hopeful occasion, in the minds of those to whom the future all robed in sunshine—is aglow with the hope and promise contained in the beautiful and proud vaunt—

"In the lexicon of youth which fate reserves
For a bright manhood, there is no such word
As—FAIL."

Age, and experience may ponder and question, but to you who are yet in the May-morn of life, and have not experienced the vicissitudes of fortune, all things seem possible. Courage and hope are the guiding stars of youth. Led and inspired by them it dares and expects all things. How sublimely but truly the author of Evangeline apostrophizes it, as looking down, "from the snowy summit of his years," he hails and salutes the [illegible] of his Alma Mater on the semi-centennial of his own graduation.

"How beautiful is youth! how bright it gleams
With its illusions, aspirations, dreams!
Book of Beginnings, Story without End,
Each maid a heroine and each man a friend!
Aladdin's Lamp and Fortunatus' purse,
That holds the treasures of the universe!
All possibilities are in its hands,
No danger daunts it and no foe withstands;
In its sublime audacity of faith,
'Be thou removed!' it to the mountain saith,
And with ambitious feet, secure and proud,
Ascends the ladder leaning on the cloud!"

But age and experience will obscure the bright sun and abate the confidence of youth, though, God be thanked, they cannot altogether destroy the fond memories of its "illusions, aspirations, dreams." In time you will learn, that so far as this world is concerned, life is a race in which all run, but few win. Many of your dearest dreams and most cherished hopes will disappear like phantoms and leave only some common place or ugly fact in their stead; or as you reach forth to gather the seeming fruit growing upon their illusory branches, it will evade your grasp, or suddenly turn to dust and ashes in your hands.

"For care and trouble set your thought
Even when your end is attained,
And all your views may come to nought,
Where every nerve is strained."

Mistaken as to the nature and quality of your talents you may undertake a vocation in which you can never get beyond a starving mediocrity, whilst in another, not perhaps so conspicuous or attractive, but quite as honorable, you might have attained to the maximum of your usefulness and happiness,—or not content with that sphere of life for which your endowments fit you, your ambition may lead you to aspire beyond your ability, so that when the tug of war comes, you may be borne down by the weight of your own shield or disabled by the ill directed stroke of your own sword. Not every one could bend the bow of Ulysses or wield the blade of Bruce. Therefore

"Let him not boast who puts his armor on
As he who puts it off, the battle done.
Study yourselves, and most of all note well
Wherein kind nature meant you to excel.
Not every blossom ripens into fruit,
Minerva, the inventress of the flute,
Flung it aside when she her face surveyed,
Distorted in a fountain as she played;
The unlucky Marsyas found it, and his fate
Was one to make the bravest hesitate.
Write on your doors the saying wise and old
Be bold! be bold! and every where be bold,
Be not too bold! Yet better the excess
Than the defect; better the more than less;
Better like Hector in the field to die,
Than like a perfumed Paris turn and fly."

I never witness an occasion like this, but I am reminded of the striking and beautiful parallel by the Autocrat of the Breakfast Table, between "Commencement Day" and the start and race for the Derby. Speaking of a graduating class, he says "the beautiful high bred three year olds of the season are brought up for trial. Here they are—coats bright as silk and manes smooth as eau lustrale can make them. Some of the best of the colts are pranced round a few minutes each to show their paces. What is that old gentleman crying about? and the old lady by him, and the three girls, what are they all covering their eyes for? Oh, that is their colt, which has just been trotted up on the stage. Do they really think that those little thin legs can do anything in such a slashing sweepstakes as is coming off in these next forty years?"

Then availing himself of the terrible gift of second sight," which he says comes to some of those who "look through the silvered rings of the arcus senilis, the Autocrat graphically depicts the progress and incidents of the race over the world's course for the next fifty years. "Ten years gone! First turn in the race. A few broken down; two or three bolted. Several show in advance of the ruck. Cassock, a black colt, seems to be ahead of the rest; those black colts commonly get the start I have noticed of the others, in the first quarter. Meteor has pulled up."

How natural! The clerical Cassock having no wild oats to sow or heroically suppressing them goes steadily to work from the start and soon takes the lead, while the brilliant dashing Meteor flashing along the course for a time soon gave out. To change the figure As he rose like a rocket he fell like the stick.

But listen again. "Twenty years. Second corner turned. Cassock has dropped from the front and Judex an iron grey has the lead. But look! How they have thinned out. Down flat—five—six—how many? They lie still enough! they will not get up again in this race be very sure! And the rest of them what a tailing off! Anybody can see who is going to win—perhaps."

This period in which we score forty years from the crib, is the turning point with many in the race. Misfortune and misconduct—ill breeding and evil habits—does sad work upon numbers at this time and from this on none but the well disciplined and good conditioned will be able to keep up the pace with which the race proceeds. Judex has come to the front. Hitherto he has been kept back by the number of entries on the law side of the course. At first these thronged the way so that it was impossible for him to get an opening to show his speed and mettle. But now the greater portion of these have bolted, turned back or fallen by the way—while some of the more showy but short-winded nags have taken a near cut by the Congressional or Gubernatorial cross roads, to the winning post. But Judex, who has pulled straight and steady on the legal snaffle for these twenty years, and never balked, shied or stumbled, is now going in to lead the race to the end.

Another decade brings us to an inte[illegible] point in the struggle. "Thirty years. Third corner turned. Dives, bright sorrel, ridden by the fellow in a yellow jacket, begins to play fast, is getting to be the favorite with many. But who is that other one that has been lengthening his stride from the first and now shows close up to the front? Don't you remember the quiet brown colt Asteroid with the star in his forehead? That is he; he is one of the sort that lasts, look out for him! The black 'colt,' as we used to call him, is in the back-ground, taking it easily in a gentle trot. There is one they used to call the Filly, on account of a certain feminine air he had. Well, you see the Filly is not to be [illegible] boy!"

It is on the back stretch that Dives makes the best time. Like Judex, he is late to the front, but is likely to stay [illegible] the last, unless he [illegible] bler's path—in some [illegible] California street or Wall street. [illegible] first ten years he labored hard [illegible] slowly, but getting over that [illegible] fully, he has since [illegible] the race lengthens his [illegible] from the bowels of the earth [illegible] idly and [illegible] in his [illegible] So far he [illegible] along without endeavoring to [illegible] as he enters the second half of his [illegible] blood and training begin to tell [illegible] quiet brown colt with the star [illegible] is seen in the front [illegible] supposed to represent the [illegible] the scholar," who has [illegible] self unspotted from the world," while [illegible] it an example of [illegible] and [illegible] and aiding by word and [illegible] in its [illegible] intellectual improvement. I hope [illegible] vorite with you, and that you will [illegible] his example; and that the [illegible] lamet University will [illegible] in this [illegible]

The "black colt" [illegible] the goal of his [illegible] fitting helpmeet [illegible] easy [illegible] caring [illegible] his [illegible] over. Unlike the [illegible] as the end [illegible] upon the next and last two [illegible]

"Forty years. More dropping [illegible] much as before. Fifty years [illegible] that are on the [illegible] now [illegible] running. What [illegible] What! and the [illegible] or [illegible] there is no [illegible] for victory!"

And so the [illegible] the grave. And the [illegible] Some of [illegible] carried light [illegible] or as [illegible] the [illegible] ting [illegible] the true [illegible] ners [illegible] the [illegible] whether [illegible] the world [illegible] may [illegible] the [illegible] no one has lost or run [illegible] his day as best he [illegible] of life to [illegible] him.

[illegible] is a [illegible] day. Its [illegible] admitted; but the [illegible] de[illegible] and not a [illegible] There is an [illegible] get along in this [illegible] call [illegible] is right the [illegible] the [illegible] that the [illegible] learns to [illegible] tight rope, or the [illegible] more ease and [illegible] if not [illegible] not to be [illegible] or [illegible] contrary, it is [illegible] and is even more [illegible] world have yet [illegible] will.

But there is a [illegible] aim and end in the [illegible] learning,—not so much for [illegible] him to get wealth, as to [illegible] use of it, and if need be [illegible] happily without it. The [illegible] foundation of it, [illegible] received, and [illegible] devolved upon you of [illegible] then filling your [illegible]

Since the [illegible] money consequent [illegible] in California and [illegible] of currency during the [illegible] have been suddenly [illegible] erable centres of [illegible] sons without the [illegible] or culture needed to fit them [illegible] preciation and prop[illegible] and responsibilities of [illegible] enough, their [illegible] nition and [illegible] free use of [illegible] found [illegible] The [illegible] dinners, [illegible] receptions have [illegible] chief distinction and end of [illegible]

Before this gilded [illegible] its outward show and [illegible] pace of parvenu [illegible] down the scholar, the [illegible] statesman, the lawyer and the [illegible] the [illegible] others [illegible] upon its [illegible] favor [illegible] age. Some of the fruits of the [illegible] sition of wealth in the United [illegible] ple who have not inherited civil[illegible] had time to acquire it, are graphically described by a recent writer on "The P[illegible] the Dollar." He says:

"The [illegible] in vulgar [illegible] Crude ornamentation, of the [illegible] New York omnibus, or a [illegible] seen in every direction, where [illegible] accumulated. Show [illegible] utility. Houses are full of [illegible] Men are not unfrequently [illegible] with [illegible] ficent solitaire diamond on a [illegible] and women with the [illegible] stones on fingers whose nails are in [illegible] This is not a great way from the [illegible] covers him [illegible] and [illegible] ored beads, and knows nothing of a [illegible] the other personal [illegible] of the [illegible] man.

"The display of a diamond stud on a [illegible] background, is often the first dim [illegible] of beauty, as well as the most signal [illegible] sign of uncultivated vanity. The [illegible] fumes of whisky, the quid of tobacco, the [illegible] al tone and ungrammatical speech, are the natural attributes of the personality. This man has perhaps the revenues of a lord of the manor, which are spent for a [illegible]. The Italian who turns the organ for a few cents before the windows of his [illegible] house could probably spend them more [illegible] stably to the soul as well as the body."

Vulgar extravagance, fast living and display being accepted as evidences of distinction and high social position, the giddy, [illegible] and aspiring poor, soon endeavor to vie with the diamond-decked nabobs and millionaires in everything and then come peculation, theft, bribery and all the gross and dis[illegible] practices and devices which of late years have so corrupted and debased the private and public life of the United States.

But you who have given the morning of your life to self improvement—to getting wisdom and understanding—ought always to insist upon a higher and truer standard of excellence and distinction than the acquisition and possession of Ophir, Five-twenties, Double eagles or any other form of the so-called Almighty Dollar. Instead of these, make that wealth which is more difficult to obtain and more enduring and worthy of desire and pursuit than any other—the wealth of character.

FRIDAY MORNING JUNE 2 1876

NO ANTAGONISM

The approaching session of the legislature will be, as the last session was to a very considerable extent, influenced by the grange movement Though not in any sense a political organization the objects of Patrons of Husbandry are such as can not fail to inspire in the membership a lively interest in all legislation which touches the commercial and agricultural interests of the community In fact those objects—the reduction of expenses and enhancement of facilities for reaching market with the products of agricultural industry and the cheapening of such commodities as the farmer is compelled to purchase require legislative recognition and assistance for their accomplishment

So sudden had been the rise of this order, and so vigorous the developing of power, that some of its members, carried away with impracticable schemes for controlling the entire commerce of the country, had arrayed themselves in hostility to the mercantile classes, and talked of "middle men" as a nuisance to be got rid of, and which must pass away [illegible] under the new regime This [illegible] notion did not spread very extensively through the order but it took hold of a sufficient number to make itself [illegible] distinctly, if not much felt [illegible] by the same law that produced this [illegible], a good many merchants, beholding the rapid growth and organized efforts of the Patrons, took needless alarm, and began to [illegible] the order as inimical to merchants

Thus arose an ill-disguised or undisguised antagonism where no real cause [illegible] existed The interests of the community are the interests of [illegible] of its members The prosperity [illegible] is the prosperity alike [illegible] and farmer Class legislation [illegible] for what particular class, [illegible] unfriendly to the welfare of the whole people [illegible] truth is now better understood, or, [illegible] on both sides who fought [illegible] have had to give over their op[illegible] and let the more reasonable [illegible] form the vast majority have [illegible]. The right of any class [illegible] and cooperate for [illegible] and advantage, is [illegible]; and it has come to [illegible] as possible to talk of antagonism [illegible] and merchants.

[illegible] understanding of the true [illegible] of all legitimate [illegible] led to general recognition of [illegible] of having in the legislature [illegible] by experience and [illegible] all prominent [illegible] welfare demands [illegible] represented so that [illegible] full harmony may [illegible] councils. [illegible] of this county [illegible] in mind in [illegible] ticket. The [illegible] of the community is [illegible] while the selection [illegible] portion of farmers give [illegible] The Order of [illegible] is strongly represented [illegible], who has long occupied [illegible] prominence and [illegible] the Order. He is a gen[illegible] good sense, aided [illegible] and great experience [illegible] by a thorough knowledge [illegible] and wishes of the [illegible] him a most valuable [illegible] whose moderation [illegible] will give weight to his [illegible] zealous advocacy of [illegible] he espouses will give [illegible] his efforts. Mr. Matlock is [illegible] prevent the recurrence of [illegible] in the legislature, [illegible] to array those in [illegible] who ought, in the [illegible] to be in the most perfect [illegible]

[illegible] that some of the [illegible] of the running [illegible], are contemplating [illegible] to sell [illegible] votes, next [illegible] what candidate attempts [illegible] or what ticket he is on, let [illegible] in the infamous traffic [illegible] to the end of the [illegible] is an enemy to the [illegible] and to the welfare of the [illegible]. No [illegible] should be [illegible] voting, and no punishment [illegible] too severe for those engaged [illegible] them, condemn them to prison. The rigor of the law is the only reli[illegible] the crime of robbing the people [illegible] choice of officers and debauch[illegible] of the country.

[illegible] has fairly opened [illegible] with a victory for Kentucky [illegible] these two States [illegible] a strong rivalry The [illegible] of New York this year is Parole [illegible] by Mr. Lorillard, while the [illegible] put up their greenbacks on Va[illegible] Kentucky bred, but now owned [illegible] W. [illegible] Astor, who recently gave for [illegible] the largest price ever paid, in this [illegible] for a gelding.

[illegible] and Vagrant met for the first time at [illegible] and Vagrant beat him badly but [illegible] was not equal to what had [illegible] made by both of the rivals [illegible] it will be renewed at New York and [illegible] where the New Yorkers say [illegible] will be turned

[illegible] glad to see that the road from East [illegible] to the race-track is being improved [illegible] a work of more than usual desirability [illegible] account of the fact that a very large [illegible] of carriages and horses will pass over [illegible] during the race week in July It is in[illegible], we have understood to remove much [illegible] brushwood along the road where it is at [illegible] narrow and greatly increase its width [illegible] should not be done the chances are [illegible] a good many accidents will happen as [illegible] road is at present altogether too narrow [illegible] too rough for the crowds of vehicles [illegible] may be expected to pass over it during [illegible] Centennial week

[illegible] rumor comes to us that a project is on foot to import into Sandy precinct a number of [illegible] votes from Washington Territory. We hope the story is without foundation, but there may be truth in it. It would be well to have arrangements made to prevent [illegible] an outrage on the rights of the people, and to bring to speedy justice any attempt to perpetrate it If there is no foundation for the rumor, nobody will be injured and the vigilance necessary to protect the ballot box against such a possibility will not be lost, but will leave its effect in future elections

MARRIED.

PICNICS.

In consequence of the continued wet weather the Union picnic of the East Portland and Hall street Methodist Sunday Schools has been postponed until a week from to morrow

The picnic excursion to Vancouver of the First Congregational and Plymouth Church Sabbath Schools which was postponed from last Saturday will come off to morrow weather permitting Should the day be suitable (as is expected) the bell of the Congregational church will be rung at 7 o clock in the morning should it be rainy the bell will not be rung The boat City of Salem will leave Pacific wharf at 8½ o clock Tickets will be found in the hands of the superintendent teachers and on the wharf As many of the congregation and other friends are expected to participate a good time is looked for

East Portland Park was visited yesterday by a very large number of our citizens the attraction being the annual picnic excursion given by the Hibernian Benevolent Society Nine o clock being the hour designated the members of that society left their hall at the corner of First and Stark streets and preceded by the Portland City Band marched to the Park Soon after their arrival there dancing was commenced and indulged in by a large number of those in attendance Light showers fell at intervals and the day did not prove as pleasant as could be desired but that drawback did not prevent the crowd from entering into the pleasures of the occasion with a keen relish During the afternoon at intervals games and athletic sports were inaugurated which constituted the most interesting features of the picnic Drinkables and refreshments of a more substantial nature were served in abundance on the grounds, so that there was no necessity for anyone to go either thirsty or hungry Dancing was continued until nearly nine o clock in the evening when all returned to this city wearied with the day s excitement, but with the feeling that they were amply compensated Much credit is due the committee having the affair in hand for the successful and satisfactory manner in which it was conducted Had the day proved bright and clear, several thousand of our people would no doubt have visited the Park

EUGENE ITEMS.

Our correspondent at Eugene sends the following under date of June 1st

A number of delegates from the Baptist church of this place went south yesterday to attend the annual association that meets at Roseburg

The candidates for legislative honors have about finished the canvass From present appearances, a fair portion of the Republican ticket will be elected

T G Hendricks has on exhibition at his store some stalks of rye, the longest of which measures 8 feet 8 inches! It was grown by Samuel Clifford, on bottom land, just above town

The second nine of the Salem College base ball club have challenged the Eclectics of this place to play a match game. It is needless to say that the challenge was not accepted as a victory over a second nine would be barren of honors.

Advices from all parts of the county represent that an average acreage of grain has been sown The early sown grain, in some instances, has a yellow appearance caused by the cold cloudy weather The late sown grain, however, could not look better

ALUMNI EXERCISES.

SALEM June 1 1876

Almost before the sun had set last evening the patrons and friends of the Willamette University commenced gathering at the chapel so fearful were they that desirable seats would be scarce at an hour later That these fears were well founded was shown by the attendance present when the exercises were opened Not only was every seat full and dozens standing around the door but many were compelled to return home unable to gain admission The platform was likewise crowded the Alumni being seated thereon together with numerous invited guests Tilmon Ford was president of the evening The exercises were opened with prayer by Rev T F Rowland of the Christian Church of this city followed with an instrumental solo by Miss Teresa Holderness The oration by Hon H H Gilfry who chose for his subject Socrates The gentleman succeeded in entertaining his hearers especially the female portion, who cheered him lustily for siding with Xantippe who deserved sympathy rather than blame for being considered a chronic old scold. Mrs Nellie Curl s poem "Hesperia" was certainly a creditable production evincing far more than ordinary talent in that line Her thoughts were original the conception grand rhyme and meter perfect beautiful in composition and sentiment and creditable to herself and friends We hope to see it published in the OREGONIAN ere long Mrs Mary Smith s essay on Sky Parlors was interesting in the extreme Her flights of imagination were in some instances very fine and the effort was well received on the part of the audience Then followed the annals by Syl C Simpson which were thoroughly enjoyed The benediction was pronounced by Rev Rowland and the audience dispersed Immediately in close of the public exercises the Alumni and a few invited guests repaired to the residence of Mrs A B Meacham where choice refreshments were served and a social time indulged in by those present About 75 were present and everything passed off pleasantly

The annual business meeting of the Alumni of the Willamette University took place at 2 P M on Wednesday last The following officers were elected for the ensuing year Tilmon Ford president Julius A Stratton, secretary Marie E Smith, treasurer executive committee, the president, secretary H Gilfry and Gertrude E. Miller Vice presidents, Thos. H Crawford '63, Annie Parrish '64 Mrs Geo Stowell, '65 Mrs Helen Stratton '66 Louisa A Stowell '67, Ellen J Chamberlin '68 Ellenorah Simpson, '69 Mattie E Scott, '70, A A Bonney, '71 Mrs Emmett Williams '72 Miss Emily Shattuck '73 Miss Elva Breyman '74 Miss Georgia Carpenter, '75 Orator for 1877, Stanley O Royal for 1878 H H Hewitt Essayist for 1877 Gertrude F Miller for 1878, Phebe Jory, Poet for 1877, Mary A Robinson, for 1878 Mrs F H Grubbe Annalist for 1876, Julius A Stratton for 1878 John M Garrison. Tilmon Ford was elected representative trustee for the ensuing three years Adjourned.

WILLAMETTE UNIVERSITY.

The following business was transacted Wednesday by the board of trustees of the Willamette University

The degree of Bachelor of Arts was ordered to be conferred on Wiley B Allen Teresa D Holderness, Albert N Moores and Miles T Starr, Bachelor of Sciences on Frank M Johnson and Frank P May and the degree of D D upon Rev R. Bentley of Portland

The following named persons were selected trustees for the class of 1876 William Roberts Isaac Dillon, J S Smith F R Smith, T M Gatch J H Moores, J Reynolds, S F Chadwick, T McF Patton C W Shaw, I D Driver, R Bentley, R. M Starr and Syl C. Simpson

The following officers were chosen for the ensuing year President, J L Parrish vice president, J H Moores, secretary J A Stratton treasurer J H Albert executive committee, E N Cooke, E Strong, F R Smith T M Gatch, T Cunningham J H Moores J H Albert, auditing committee, E Strong, H H Gilfry, T Cunningham visiting committee Robt Bentley, P M Starr, L M Nickerson, L L Rowland

The secretary was instructed to notify the bishop of the next conference of the appointment of J H Roork as agent, and request the conference to confirm the appointment

THE TERRITORIES.

The famous racing horse Humboldt, who achieved such distinction at the winter races in San Francisco has returned to Owyhee

A Salt Lake paper of the 23d ultimo says "Last week vegetation was frozen out and this week promises fair to cook it Yesterday at 2 P M the thermometer stood at 82° in the shade "

Samuel Stoltz, a former resident of Boise City, but living for the past ten months in Silver departed from the latter burg a few days ago, leaving a host of creditors to lament his sudden taking off

Foot-pads operate boldly in Seattle of late Last Sunday night they stopped three men among the number Mr J R Robbins, owner of the steamer Zephyr They ordered him to "throw up his hands," which he did not do, and one of them struck him in the face with a bar of iron or a slungshot knocking him down and bruising his face badly

The Olympian says "A few days ago Capt Butler mate of the steamer North Pacific, attempted to put Nelson Babcock off that boat at Port Gamble and while so doing both of them fell into the water but luckily were rescued but little worse for wear Since then Babcock commenced suit against Capt Butler for an assault and the latter gave bonds to appear for trial at the next term of the district court

The question of "water supply" agitates Seattle at present A company has been organized who desire to construct water works, and also want to secure an exclusive franchise for twenty five years and a subsidy in cash from the city. The friends and opponents of the proposed measure are active, and the agitation of the subject will likely result in the adoption of some plan that will secure the needed supply

From the Salt Lake Tribune "A Mormon sheet speaking of the arrest of a lunatic who calls himself 'Third from Christ' for an attempted outrage on a little girl hits the prophet and his apostles the following hard lick This long haired pest would be much safer in a lunatic asylum as would several other old lecherous scoundrels of the same type who are prowling around under assumed spiritual control ' "

SATURDAY MORNING, JUNE 3, 1876.

MR. RAMSEY'S BARGAIN.

Our readers have the benefit this morning of an unusually large crop of cards and [illegible] of cards and so forth; but the most extensive of the whole harvest is that of Mr. W. M. Ramsey, Democratic candidate for Prosecuting Attorney of the third judicial district, who offers an explanation of the bargain between him and his competitor in 1870 with reference to the office of county judge of Yamhill county. From the general and sweeping [illegible]tions of Mr. Ramsey, at the outset, that our "statements of the facts and comments are untrue and unjust," one would [illegible] expect to find Mr. Ramsey's [illegible] of the case at variance with ours on some if not all the material points. But in this the reader is doomed to disappointment. Mr. Ramsey, on the contrary, admits the bargain and everything pertaining, and his statement [illegible] with ours in every particular except on the immaterial point of which received the certificate of election, he or [illegible]th. We have before us the written [illegible] of one of the best men of Yamhill county, that Mr. Smith and not Mr. Ramsey received it; but we are willing to consider that our informant committed an error unintentionally on this point, as the matter is rendered [illegible] by the fact that the case [illegible] tried by the circuit court, and it was found, on judicial investigation, that Mr. [illegible] was elected. That fixes the fact of [illegible]

[illegible] says he was beaten only "a [illegible]." We had always supposed [illegible] of "a few votes" was [illegible] in this nation of majority [illegible]. It is safe to venture the prediction [illegible] will not despise "a few [illegible] quarter next Monday.

[illegible] the case of Boise and Bon[illegible] of Redding and his oppo[illegible] with his. They [illegible] in any essential par[illegible]. In those cases there was never [illegible] trial and of course there was no ju[illegible] as to who was elected. It [illegible], and it will be naturally [illegible] by persons who are not inter[illegible] the contrary appear, that [illegible] the facts the parties [illegible] contest did so be[illegible] that they were [illegible]. But in Mr. Ram[illegible] was made after a ju[illegible] ended in a de[illegible] was not elected. [illegible] to [illegible] by [illegible] Court [illegible] the stipu[illegible] of the evidence. [illegible] Both these parts of the [illegible] by the parties to the [illegible] in order to carry out [illegible] and record [illegible] the [illegible] agency [illegible] will not [illegible] no trial in the Su[illegible] on one [illegible] attempt to make [illegible] a trial is sheer

[illegible] to do Mr. Ramsey an [illegible]. The office for [illegible] is not in any [illegible] office, and so far [illegible] we care not whether [illegible] elected. We have [illegible] at this transaction [illegible] and we cannot but [illegible] of all parties will [illegible] the explanation utterly [illegible] of its most objec[illegible]

[illegible] AN ADMONITION.

[illegible] has another [illegible] that he wrote [illegible] books," in his card [illegible] day. The error [illegible] mistake of the [illegible] Mr. Simpson's copy. [illegible] for the correc[illegible] Mr. Simpson to add, as [illegible] we have personal [illegible] not Mr. Sylvester [illegible] Mr. Samuel L. Simpson [illegible] of the school books [illegible] Mr. Sylvester C. Simp[illegible] superintendent of Public [illegible] never had the remotest [illegible] Sylvester C. Simpson had [illegible] those school books, [illegible] under any circum[illegible] the introduction [illegible] in which he had a farth[illegible] Indeed we should volun[illegible] against Mr. [illegible] no matter from [illegible] high an opinion [illegible] personal integrity. And [illegible] at once, and with great [illegible] uncharitable and unjust [illegible] which the whole coun[illegible] the severe censures of [illegible] party, of which Mr. Syl[illegible] Simpson is an honored repre[illegible] visited upon President Grant [illegible] influence with the Secretary [illegible] certain sutlerships for [illegible] Orvil. Let us all be more just [illegible] and have done with ill-natured [illegible] about blood being thicker [illegible]

[illegible] has got into a very unfor[illegible] in his peregrinations among [illegible] Dr. Watts of Lafayette, has [illegible] on his track. Yesterday, as we are [illegible], the two spoke in Yamhill [illegible], and Watts used up the Senatorial [illegible] so completely that his friends advised [illegible] to go home and stay there till he could [illegible] opportunity to slip out without Watts' [illegible] knowing it, and air himself a little. [illegible] they are to speak at Dallas, after [illegible] it is supposed, the Governor will cease [illegible] over the country under pay from [illegible] in search of votes for the Senate.

And now we have Mr. R. E. Bybee demanding to be investigated on the charge made [illegible] him yesterday by "Democrat." That [illegible] right. Investigation is the order of business [illegible] now. We have omitted a sentence of Mr. [illegible] card, as we have no room in our col[illegible] for billingsgate, but we have retained all that relates to the charge, and quite enough to make it necessary for "Democrat" to come forward with his proof, which he will now have to do, or popular judgment [illegible] for Bybee by default. There [illegible] day left, and our columns are open.

LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE.—The June number of this interesting publication opens with the sixth article of the valuable series, entitled the "Century, its Fruits and its Festivals," which treats of the display at the great Exhibition, and which is to be followed by future numbers, giving a more detailed account of what is to be seen there. This article is fully illustrated. Another illustrated article is "Glimpses of Constantinople," the city towards which the eyes of the world are now turned, on account of the important political events transpiring there. Mr. Jas. M. Bruce gives an interesting account of a trip through a part of the French Alps, and Lady Baker sends another pleasant letter from South Africa. Fiction and Poetry are fully represented, and Monthly Gossip and notices of new books complete the contents of one of the best of our serials.

Probably there is not on record an instance in which a greater amount of "cheek" is displayed than in the effort of some Democratic politicians to excite in citizens of foreign birth, prejudice against the Republican party by referring to it as the Know-Nothing party. The Know-Nothing organization which existed but a short time, had its Oregon headquarters at Portland, and its leading spirits were Democrats. Several of the most prominent Democratic politicians of this county were active managers in the Know-Nothing wigwams. This is an historical fact which no Democrat of respectability will dare deny.

Voters should bear in mind that they can not lawfully vote outside the precinct in which they reside for any but district offices. A vote for any other office is illegal if cast outside the precinct of the voter's residence.

NOTES AND QUERIES.

WILBUR, DOUGLAS CO., May 2[illegible], 1876.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Will you kindly answer the following questions through the medium of your daily:

1st. Can a vessel built in England, but purchased and owned by an American, obtain an American certificate, and sail under the American flag? (This question has reference only to the mercantile marine.) Answer: No.

2nd. Will the fact of an American steamer having an English made boiler prevent her obtaining a first-class certificate in an American port? Answer: Yes.

MR. RAMSEY RISES TO EXPLAIN.

JEFFERSON, June 1, 1876.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

In to-day's issue of your paper I find an article headed "Something for Investigation," in which you copy a mortgage executed by me to Mr. David Smith, for the sum of $200, in August, 1871. Your statements of facts and comments are untrue and very unjust to me. You say I ran against Smith for county judge and was beaten, and then the certificate of election was issued to Smith, &c. This statement is untrue. I received, according to the count, a majority of the whole number of votes cast, and the certificate of election was awarded to me, and not to Smith. I qualified and held one term of court, after which Smith contested my election in the circuit court before Judge Boise, who decided in Smith's favor by a few votes. I appealed from this decision to the supreme court, and before the case was heard Mr. Smith, through his attorney, proposed to me that if I would pay him a part of the costs, which he had expended in the case, he would let the case go and make no effort to sustain the decision of Boise. He said he had expended about $450. I finally agreed to pay him the sum of $200 as a settlement of the case between him and me. The Supreme Court examined the stipulation of the parties and the [illegible] of all the testimony in the case which accompanied the transcript, and reversed Boise's decision and awarded the office to me. There are distinguished precedents for a proceeding of this kind. In 1870 Judges Boise and Bonham were opposing candidates for the office of District Judge of the 3d judicial district, and the certificate of election was given to Judge Boise. Judge Bonham contested Boise's election, and before the case was to be tried, they effected a settlement of their costs, by which Boise was allowed to draw the salary for a certain time, in consideration of which Boise agreed to let judgment go by default. Judge Thayer was invited to hold the circuit court at Salem, and Judge Bonham obtained judgment by default without producing any testimony, and has held the office ever since. The contest for the office of county clerk of Yamhill county in 1870 was settled in the same way. Mr. Redding, the Republican candidate, paid his Democratic competitor a sum of money to settle the case. The precedents show what such men as Boise and Bonham thought of such a settlement, and I contend that I did nothing wrong in the matter. If I am subject to criticism for what I did, then Judges Boise and Milton Redding, both of whom are now candidates on the Republican ticket for office, are in the same condition.

An election contest is very expensive, and I think parties who have to pay the costs have a right to settle such cases as between themselves. This is all that was done by Smith and me. He began the contest and had a right to withdraw from it at his pleasure. Now, Mr. Editor, please publish this in Saturday morning's OREGONIAN without fail and retract so much of your comments as the facts require.

W. M. RAMSEY.

ANOTHER CARD FROM MR. SIMPSON.

PORTLAND, OR., June 2, 1876.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

I see that your paper misrepresents me again this morning, though it is probably accidental and not intentional. The types make me say in my card that I did not issue any such circular as that which has been imputed to me, "either before or after the adoption of my books." You will see by examining the copy of my card that I wrote it "any books," and not "my books." I never wrote a line for any school book nor owned a farthing's interest in any such book in my life. Please do me the justice to make this correction, and I hope that I shall then have no further occasion to trouble you about this matter.

Yours truly,

SYL. C. SIMPSON.

OREGON.

A barn standing in the suburbs of Albany was burned down on Thursday night. The loss will be slight, as the building was a small one.

Letters are detained in the Albany postoffice for want of stamps, addressed as follows: Amelia Cohn, Portland, and Luther Houston, Harrisburg.

At the meeting of the board of regents of Corvallis college held on Tuesday, President B. L. Arnold was unanimously requested to remain in charge of the school.

Sheep-shearing has begun in earnest in Jackson county, and almost every day wagon-loads of wool are brought to town for sale or storage. Sheep men say this year's clipping in Jackson county will be much larger than that of any former year, and the wool of much better quality.

The Jacksonville Sentinel says: "The prospects for good crops were never better in this county than are now promised, in fact almost secured. As large an area is planted as ever before of all kinds of farm produce. Fruit of all kinds, from May cherries to pound pippins, is already causing the limbs of the trees to hang in all parts of the county."

UNSATISFIED.

"Only a housemaid!" She looked from the kitchen—
Neat was the kitchen and tidy was she;
There at her window a sempstress sat stitching:
"Were I a sempstress, how happy I'd be!"

"Only a queen!" She looked over the waters—
Fair was her kingdom and mighty was she;
There sat an empress, with queens for her daughters,
"Were I an empress, how happy I'd be!"

Still the old frailty they all of them trip in!
Eve in her daughters is ever the same;
Give her all Eden, she sighs for a pippin;
Give her an empire, she pines for a name!

CITY.

In East Portland.—The announcement that there would be political speaking in East Portland, had the effect to bring out a large crowd. The meeting was held in the open air in front of Bar. At 7.30 o'clock music discoursed by the Aven Band drew together a crowd and about 8 speaking commenced. Speeches were made in behalf of the Democratic ticket by M. C George, D. P. Thompson, T J Matlock. They were replied to by their Democratic opponents, Hon. J C Simpson and A J Kirk. The gentlemen had concluded loud calls were made for our young friend. He came to the front and made a capital speech which provoked mirth and enthusiasm. All present was late Mr Blum managed and inspired them by his wit and the amusing thrusts made at them. The attendance was good and enthusiasm was manifested during the speaking. The good effects of the speaking will of the success of the Republican ticket at the polls next Mon

BRIEF NOTES.

Strawberries rather backward this season

Republican rally in East Portland this evening

Steamer to sail from San Francisco for Portland to-day

Cherries are in market in limited quantities with prices to correspond

A camp meeting will be held by the M E Church at Rock Creek commencing June 22d

Drug stores are most patronized in summer because as watering places they are soda lightful

I would be some encouragement these cool nights to hear the hum of the once discouraging mosquito

A fellow at our elbow of a waggish turn of mind suggests that the Wallamet is making a run on its banks

Pound social. The cook and hostler with tender sentiments wearing out a potato masher on the beefstead for breakfast

We regret to announce that our much esteemed fellow citizen W S Ladd Esq is quite infirm his health not being so good as a few weeks ago

The fact that a number of small chaps are to be daily seen paddling about on dry goods boxes, and frail rafts brings to mind that the drowned boy season is now in full bloom

A pretty respectable sort of lace necktie can be purchased for a lady now for from twelve to fourteen dollars, and yet young men seem to be at a loss sometimes to decide what would be suitable and acceptable as a philopena forfeit

House cleaning is having an unprecedented run this year. Women seem to have got the idea into their heads that the Centennial has something to do with the millennium and are preparing for the last trump to be turned up shortly

The two park blocks between Seventh Eighth Clay and Montgomery streets have been selected for the literary exercises of the Fourth of July celebration. Appropriate stands will be erected and seats to accommodate at least 10 000 people

A gentleman who appears slightly disgusted, says that a neat bustle about the shape and size of a hotel reading room chair is not at all objectionable, but when the ladies put something like a steamboat fender under their gowns to throw against men's legs the questions of dress and human safety become complicated

FIRE MENTIONS.

Mr Wascher the very efficient engineer of Multnomah Co No 2 is now engaged in putting the large engine of that company in capital order

This evening there will be a meeting of Columbian Tender Co No 3 at the engine house, at 7 30 o'clock

Willamette Co No 1 have a new and handsome flagstaff, which will be raised over the engine house in a few days. The boys believe in the "eternal fitness of things." They have recently procured a new flag, and are determined to have a staff to correspond

About 12 o'clock Thursday night a small barn situated near the corner of Thirteenth and G streets, took fire and was totally destroyed. There was no alarm given. The barn was insured for its full value. The loss will not exceed a few hundred dollars

Tiger, No 5 Protection No 4 and Willamette No 1 were out spouting the other evening. The steamers and hand engine acquitted themselves handsomely

Joe Webber chief engineer of the Albany fire department, is expected to arrive in this city next week. Joe has been selected as one of the committee on fire engines and he comes down for the purpose of co-operating with the other members on that committee

A committee has been appointed by No 1 at a recent meeting, to decorate the engine house for the Fourth

A new suction, which was ordered some time ago for Protection No. 4, is expected to arrive on the next steamer. The steamer has been taken to the corporation shed and will be treated to a new coat of paint, and Dan Owens will be the artist.

THE TURF.

This afternoon a running race will take place over the East Portland trotting park. Running half-mile heats two in three, free for all, for a purse of $150: first horse $100, second $50, four to enter, three to start, entrance ten per cent. The following horses have entered Osceola, Rosa Mansfield, Ophir and Billy Nutts. Pool selling took place last evening at the Holton House. Osceola was the favorite for the race, Billy Nutts for the first heat

An exchange from Eastern Oregon says "Joe Keeney and J S Delevan are the lucky owners of one of the best of the Bellfounder family, being a stallion, four years old, coal black, weighs 1 120 pounds, and 15 hands 1½ inches high. Bellfounder Jr. was sired by old Bellfounder, Dr Mack's mare Topsey being the dam. He is one of the most promising trotters of that celebrated family. He is being worked on the Pendleton track by Mr Delevan one of his owners and is increasing his speed daily"

ANNUAL EXAMINATION.

The annual examination at Bishop Scott Grammar school will take place next week from the 5th to the 9th inclusive. The examination will be conducted by the teachers in the following order

Monday—9 to 12 Geography, 1 to 3, Greek history, 3 to 4 Geography

Tuesday—9 to 12, Arithmetic, 1 to 3, Arithmetic, 3 to 4, English grammar

Wednesday—9 to 11, Latin and Greek 11 to 12, English grammar, 1 to 2 30, Physics 2.30 to 3 Geometry and Trigonometry

Thursday—9 to 10 30 Physiology, 10 30 to 11, Latin, 1 to 2.30 English History, 2 30 to 4, Ancient geography

Friday—9 to 10 30, English grammar 10 30 to 12, Rhetoric, 1 Head Master's report. Prizes and closing of school

THE STAGE.

The California Minstrels will visit Portland in the course of a few weeks and open for a brief season

Kate Denin has taken Ellie Wallows place in the California theater company, the latter rising to the position of leading lady

Prof (?) Jacobs the "medium" was giving exhibitions in San Jose when last heard from. When Jacobs alias Baldwin left this city not long since his name was slightly under a cloud

The "Merry Makers" arrived at San Francisco not long since and started though the interior towns of California at once. The company propose to visit the Centennial and will start Eastward soon, performing along the route.

Lunches none better than what Barnes of Central Market, offers

Nothing like having the best the market affords and you can get that article at the popular headquarters of Fishel & Roberts who keep a full stock the best, and charge moderate prices

Mr A M Flam, the successor of Flam & Co, engaged in the livery business corner of I and Fifth streets, East Portland has completely refitted and refurnished his establishment and is now prepared to turn out some very stylish rigs. Feed of all kinds constantly on hand

Ask your dealer for the golden thread cigar

Peter Wilhelm at the Fountain, First and Ash streets keeps things in a cozy shape. His billiard tables are much admired and the new Virginius table is a great favorite. Call and see him

Everybody's favorite—the golden thread cigar

W. I. Adams M. D. A. M. ... corner of First and Salmon streets is curing the most inveterate chronic diseases of all kinds at a low price by medicated electric lightning, cream baths and by combining the German and French with the American improved practice mixed with a little common sense. His treatment is in the main entirely ... and works almost turn less as his ... patients will attest. A lady always in the office to assist in treating women

The oldest man in Oregon will be here at the Centennial and during his stay will purchase a summer outfit at Rosenblatt's 73 Front street, where bargains are offered

The Noble Whisky is distilled in the finest and most complete distillery in the world. Sold only by H Fleckenstein 117 First st. sole agent for Portland

FOR THE LADIES.

Leather belts are revived

Fine cameos are much sought after

English crape is the trimming for mourning costumes

Children of both sexes wear solid colors in stockings

Henrietta cloth takes the lead among mourning fabrics

Fine rubies are rarer than any other jewels and far more costly

Present fashions in mourning admit some white about the neck

Straw and silk embroidery vie with flowers for favor as trimmings

Misses skirts are never more than three yards in breadth at the bottom, and they reach the ankles

Toilets for evening are fresh and light; the season for rich heavy material is over

White muslin dresses are made with cuirass bodices deep tabliers and demi trains

Cream is universally worn for evening toilettes and much trimmed with grasses of every variety

The popular black grenadines prove to be those with stripes of the Mexicaine pattern worn last year

Cards of fashionable size with envelopes to match or Dom Pedro stationery are the style now for notes of regret and invitation

Rough satin faced straw bonnets will be worn by elderly ladies for traveling while young ladies will patronize round hats and English walking hats

A novelty for a summer overdress is the Russian polonaise. This is a belted garment with a yoke in the back. The skirt of the back is deep, full and trimmed up the center. The front is open and a belt sewed in it

Flower fringes are introduced in Paris and London as garniture for evening dresses. Grass and daisies red berries and mignonette bunches of lilac with olives and water plants with leaves are among the favorite combinations

MILITARY SUPPLIES.

Bids were opened some days since in the office of Maj W H Bell, chief commissary of subsistence, for the furnishing of military supplies. After an examination of the various bids and testing of the samples offered of the different kinds of supplies to be furnished the following contracts were awarded

MR. BYBEE DEMANDS THE PROOF.

PORTLAND June 2, 1876

To the Editor of the Oregonian

I notice in your issue of June 2d a card signed "Democrat" which gives me credit for more influence than I ever hoped to possess, but unfortunately the whole thing is false and I demand the name of "Democrat" for I think I can see the cloven foot neath the lion's skin. I also demand his "abundant proof" names and dates. So Mr "Democrat," lift up your hat from over your eyes and come to the front. I have been a resident of this county for thirty one years, and I don't think anonymous articles on the eve of election will injure me. Let the committee investigate

R. E BYBEE.

A would be fashionable woman in the West, under sentence for murder, has only one request to make. She wants the shade of her dress to match the rope. A "corded" silk would be appropriate

When you wish to present a respectable appearance dress well. All the young and old men in the town consider that the late importations at Jos Kohn's are the best they have seen. Kohn is always up to snuff and provides his patrons with the latest, and best. Examine the stock

Regulate the Bodily Functions.

This advice should be especially heeded by those who suffer from an irregular habit of body or disorders of the bladder or kidneys. Inactivity of the bowels or of the urinary organs is speedily rectified by that wholesome aperient and sterling invigorative diuretic, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters and, as all affections of the organs of discharge have a strong tendency to become chronic and that very rapidly the use of the Bitters should not be delayed a moment longer than is necessary. The action of this inestimable corrective upon the bowels differs widely from that of a drastic purgative since it is never violent or abrupt but always gentle and natural and its effects upon the bladder and kidneys are strengthening as well as mildly stimulative. The healthful impetus which it gives to digestion also renders it a most desirable general tonic.

Sore Throat, Cough, Cold and similar troubles if suffered to progress result in serious pulmonary affections oftentimes incurable. Brown's Bronchial Troches reach directly the seat of the disease and give almost instant relief

RECOMPENSE

There is a yesterday within the heart of each
Sometime when life was so supremely blessed
That no good wished for seemed beyond our reach;
When trouble seemed no part of earthly test,
And we, alas! forget the better rest
The lesson that our Master strove to teach

There came a time when we held withered flowers
[illegible] of blossoms, fair with love's own light
When all that we had hoped, and dreamed, was ours,
Lay dead and shrouded by a starless night
We shuddered as we shut from our poor sight
The joys which once seemed filled with endless powers.

We crushed a memory back upon our heart
And bade it die, that we might live and smile
We tried to reason "It was all a jest
Ah, yes, we strove a weary [illegible]
And journeyed thorny roads for many a mile,
Footsore and weary, yet we found no rest

At last there came an hour when we no more
Could strive, we stood unconquered and at bay
Before this vanished joy, whose shade we bore,
Alas! in all sunshine that might be to-day
And, shriven of all might, we knelt to pray
For strength and help divine at Heaven's door

And there fell tears, ah me! denied so long,
As we bowed low, our faces in the dust,
And the grim phantom of a buried wrong
[illegible] the chains that bound to our dead trust
Our living hearts, and covered with red rust
[illegible] king fell—to us a freedom song.

[illegible] Father! we had [illegible] at last
The utter weakness of a human heart
[illegible] before temptation's awful blast,
And hope to conquer it by human art.
We prayed, and Thou removed the rankling dart,
Yes, Thou didst know 'twas best, our painful past.

[illegible] free; in tears was washed away
[illegible] from out our hidden life,
[illegible] should remain for aye,
[illegible] of cruel, useless strife
[illegible] years, which should have been with [illegible] sures rife;
While we were comfortless for one lost day

[illegible] the bl[illegible] spring along the road
[illegible] walk peacefully, the battle done,
[illegible] the brilliant rose of passion showed
[illegible] lifts its offering to the sun,
And knowing less is lost than we have won,
[illegible] "He doeth well," upon our code

[illegible] OF THE WAR.

[illegible] of our summer campaigns in [illegible] my regiment chanced to be [illegible] night [illegible] an open prairie [illegible] The regiment held the [illegible], and as we were advancing [illegible] the country it was upon this occasion [illegible] the bayou. All the danger that could [illegible] be apprehended was from the front [illegible] picket line was therefore extended [illegible] whole front of the brigade forty rods [illegible] from the right flank of my regiment [illegible] of trees and bushes along the low [illegible] and narrow stream, the dis[illegible] the same—forty or fifty rods [illegible] in the immediate [illegible] right and the bayou [illegible] obstructions of any [illegible] open plain [illegible] rated us from

[illegible] of the day," and of course [illegible] the [illegible] of the picket [illegible] I made my second [illegible] on horseback and found [illegible] the situation quiet. [illegible] table had been [illegible] to the reserve, [illegible] with the officer [illegible] report at head-quarters [illegible] me as I rode up.

[illegible] the other picket [illegible] It appeared [illegible] out about twenty [illegible] lookout toward [illegible] and forth a few [illegible] the custom of [illegible] remote places [illegible] his ear was [illegible] along the ground as if of [illegible] from a point some[illegible] and the bayou. He [illegible] his eyes in the di[illegible] The night was quite [illegible] was visible at first, though [illegible] still continued, but in a [illegible] saw what seemed to him to [illegible] and arms of a man [illegible] the ground directly toward him [illegible] bringing his rifle to a [illegible] who's there?"

[illegible] had heard at the reserve [illegible] but the shuffling noise [illegible] moved straight to-

[illegible] this time with [illegible] He fired almost with

[illegible] was near by on his tour, and [illegible] the spot at the report, reached it [illegible] as I did. We found the soldier [illegible] reloaded standing at a guard, [illegible] into the darkness A few [illegible] him explained the cause of alarm, [illegible] was to be seen The corporal [illegible] and I was disposed to be vexed with

[illegible] was a rebel on his hands and [illegible] there, coming this way" the soldier [illegible] "I wish you'd both been [illegible] and seen him, as I did, I tell you it was [illegible] spy, sneaking around for a [illegible] inside the lines, and if I hadn't [illegible] bright lookout his knife would have [illegible] me before now I think I hit [illegible] and him somewhere out there."

"You have killed a pig, Jake I don't [illegible]," said the corporal, but Jake firmly [illegible] that he had fired at a man, and [illegible] and was anxious to go out at [illegible] and watch for the body. This, however I would not permit, deeming it useless to be [illegible] morning, and possibly dangerous [illegible] with a caution to him to keep up a good lookout, but to be careful not to give too ready [illegible] I rode back to the reserve and ordered the picket on the flank to be doubled I can hardly say that I had any real apprehension of danger from that quarter even after this oc[illegible], but it was plain that any mistake in the matter had better be on the side of prudence and [illegible]. The reserve stacked arms and the lonely hours till daylight passed with out further alarm

When daylight came, Jack's promptness and vigilance [illegible] amply justified by the sight that it di[illegible] A huge alligator ten feet long, lay stretched on his belly not twenty feet fr[illegible] the spot where the soldier had stood, and a more hideous object I have certainly never seen. His scaly body was spattered with the blood that his death struggles had thrown over him, and his yawning jaws hung [illegible] open, exhibiting ample capacity to bite a man in two with their rows of sharp, glistening teeth. A close examination showed that the bullet had entered the eye, which in these [illegible] is almost the only vulnerable point

It was a lucky shot, and one that could hardly be expected to be repeated under similar circumstances The story made a nine days wonder for the brigade especially after the assurances we had often received from the negroes that the alligator will not attack man unless first attacked or in case of the female, her young are interfered with But well authenticated cases to the contrary have been reported and no one can say what victim this strange enemy might have chosen had he entered the camp

Jake gave his opinion on the subject to a crowd of admiring comrades who were listening to the details of the affair and his joke delivered in a solemn quiet way lasted as long and became as entertaining as the story itself

"I think" he said, "that he was looking for the Brigadier General He ain't none of your common crocodiles he wanted a dainty meal"

Of course everybody allowed that Jake had displayed excellent soldierly qualities in this adventure He was recommended for promotion which he received in a few weeks.

Business matters to-day are moderately active and though single transactions have not been large there are signs of some marked improvement in the general condition of commercial affairs during the week now specially under review The monetary supply is ample and though the banks are placing their surplus funds occasionally in the way of loans they are still holding an important amount subject to call at the usual rates and there is no danger that the trade following upon the coming harvest will suffer from a lack of money in the country In fact the supply of capital is ample and the necessity of the hour is the condition of affairs to give it distribution

The treasury policy in reference to paying out silver in such volume as to relieve the dearth of small change continues to be a half hearted, vacillating course, which affords a direct encouragement to the popular mind to hoard the silver that is being doled out to them by the government authorities in such homeopathic doses The policy has again undergone a change. On Thursday of week before last the Treasury stopped paying on currency checks and drafts Friday it resumed in New York limiting the amount which the holder of any check or draft can get to $400 This did not affect the premium on small change, which was as high as 3 per cent. and in places as low as 1½ per cent., closing at 2@3 per cent. The value of greenbacks in gold at present is 88.90@90 per cent while the true value of subsidiary silver by the latest London quotation is 83 81 per cent And yet by the vacillation and timidity of the governmental policy, the work of silver resumption is so carried on as to put silver coin at a premium amounting to nearly ten per cent. of its actual value.

Wool.

The market here remains in about the same state that was last reported. Dealers are almost or entirely unanimous in the assertion that they can see but little encouragement in the prospect. An [illegible] ern paper estimates that there will be an increase of from ten to fifteen per cent. in the clip, and apparently now a shrinkage of about twelve per cent. in the consumption This is providing for the closing only of the present bankrupt and sadly embarrassed mills If wool rules low enough to enable manufacturers to make twenty per cent. cheaper all wool goods than have this season been shown, the whole clip will go sharply into consumption and another year re establish full value for the clip. If wools keep along at just about where they now stand, 38c for good Ohios and Pennsylvanias, and 32c for good Michigans, the trade will be a steady and healthy one Any advance on these prices, the most thoughtful manufacturers and prudent dealers conceive will renew the era of shoddy that has reigned with vigor the past ten months, and the same experiences of cheaper wool after January be repeated
